QUIP invites Quaker authors and aspiring authors to a conference focusing on the ministry of the written word and how it prospers among us today. Network and worship with other Quaker writers, publishers, bloggers, editors, and journalists!

Attend workshops on topics including: writing as ministry, poetry, children's writing, editing as writing, historical research & writing, writing on social issues, writing for the embodied voice, writing as prayer, journalism, spiritual autobiography, and more!

Also panel presentations, participant-created interest groups, QUIP's business sessions, and plenary talks by Tom Hamm and Brent Bill.

Meet the members of the Youth Book Editorial Board and help them celebrate the release of QUIP's second Youth Book, Spirit Rising: Young Quakers Speak, featuring writing and art from all over the Quaker world!
